Any book that can give information about what made Kathryn so special is worth purchasing. If you had the chance to listen to her she would have told you that, "It costs everything". I've read her books and books about her and books of her talks and what was most interesting to note was that she was a stutterer and that is why she spoke the way she did. That's just like God to use such a person too, isn't it. Buy the book if you don't have it as it's good reading.
