“An essential guide to the art and architecture of ancient Central America.” ?Colonial Latin American Historical Review

Mary Ellen Miller evocatively surveys the artistic achievements of the high pre-Columbian civilizations?Olmec, Maya, Teotihuacan, Toltec, Aztec?as well as those of their less-well-known contemporaries. Their pyramids and palaces, jades and brightly colored paintings emerge from these pages as vividly as when they first astonished Cortes’s men in 1519. The fifth edition of this standard work incorporates new color images and extensive updates based on the latest research and discoveries. The revisions include a rewritten and extended chapter on Teotihuacan; up-to-date analysis of the links between the Olmecs and the Maya; a discussion of new discoveries at the heart of the Aztec capital that continue to astound students of Mexico; and much more. 250 illustrations, 185 in color

Awful, agonizing, painful.

By Amazon Customer

I've never had such a hard time deciphering the writing's of an author, until I came to this textbook. My art history professor tried so hard to make us interested in this book, and although the images used were of good quality and vivid, the writing was incoherent at best and sloppy at worst. I wish this book wasn't used, as it's a pain to try and read and beyond agonizing to discuss in class.
